Master's Degree in Instructional Technology (33 Credits)

&

School Leadership & Technology Advanced Diploma (33 Credits)

Suffolk's Edge Teacher Center in collaboration with Western Suffolk BOCES and New York Institute of Technology will be offering 2 programs for certified teachers.

Master's Degree in Instructional Technology for Educators: this program is perfect for teachers who need professional certification in educational technology specialist. According to the Occupational Outlook Handbook by Bureau of Labor Statistics, "Employment of instructional coordinators is projected to grow 13 percent from 2012 to 2022, about as fast as the average for all occupations. Employment growth is expected as schools focus on evaluating and improving curriculums and teachers' effectiveness."

School Leadership & Technology Advanced Diploma: this program is for teachers who have Permanent Teaching Certification and are interested in leadership roles in schools. This program prepares educators to excel in demanding positions such as a program director, curriculum coordinator, technology coordinator, assistant principal & principal. This is the only educational leadership program in New York State to include all requirements for certification as both a School Building Leader (SBL) and Educational Technology Specialist (ETS).

Courses are face-to-face, online or blended learning. Cutting edge technology embedded in every course to enhance teaching and learning. Candidates will establish a solid e- portfolio to showcase their work.
